COMMON ALTITUDE

OFFICE OF THE IMPOSSIBLE
Proposed Denver Art Fair & Exhibition, 2027

ORIGINAL CONCEPT GRAPHIC

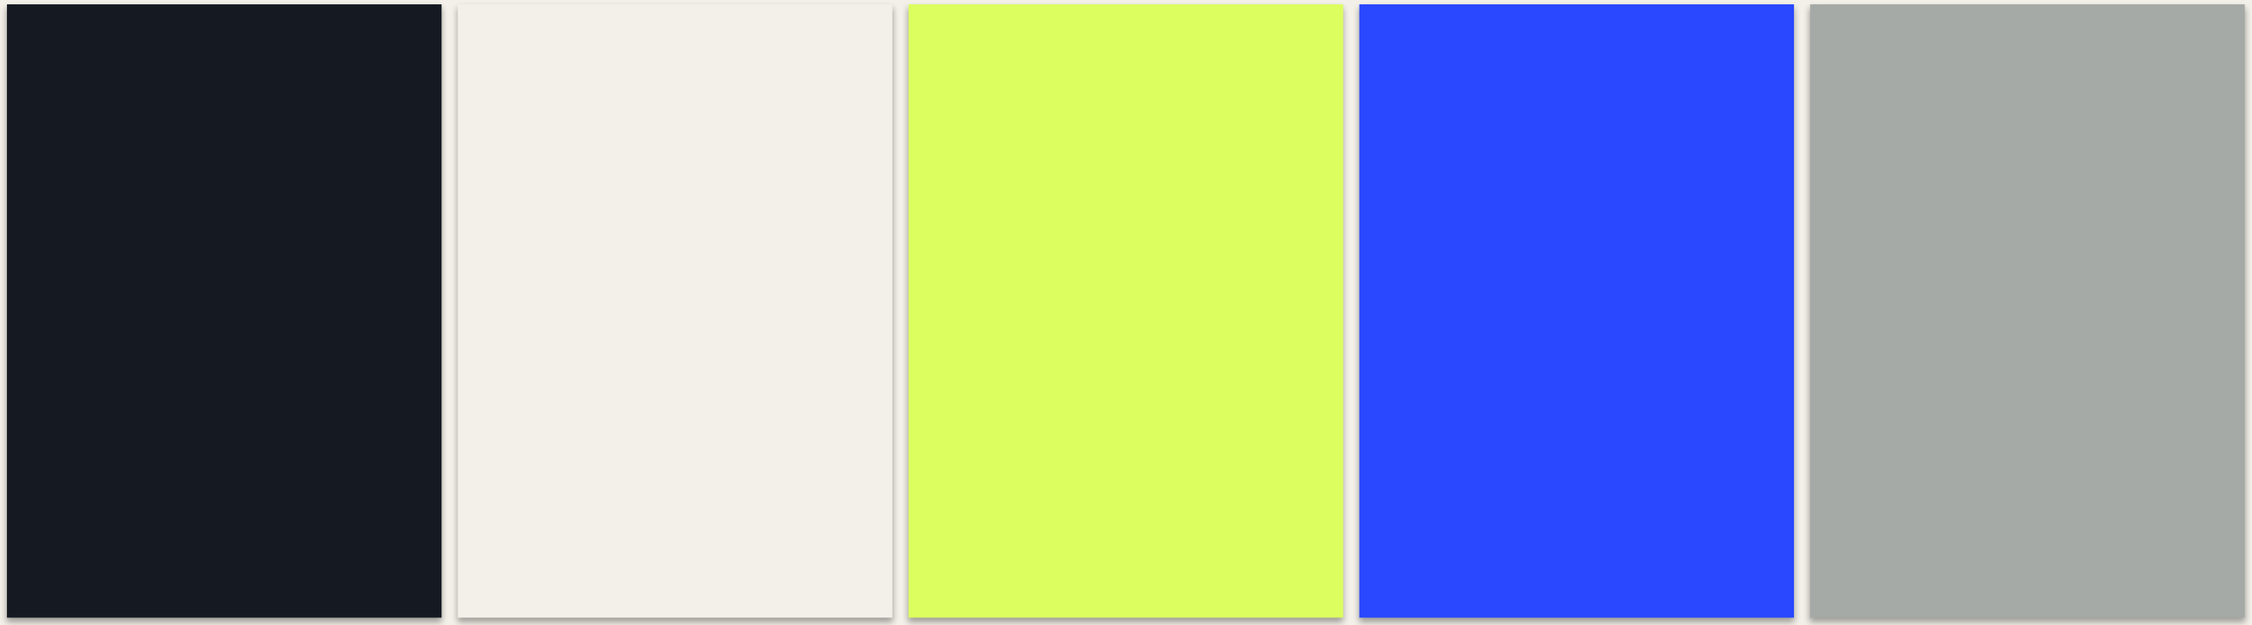

Art in former offices

Artists and galleries present work for sale alongside commissions and free public programs.

- Give each artist or gallery a defined space and control of their presentation.
- Provide readable artwork records, buyer appointments and seller contacts.
- Pay creative work and keep core public art discovery free.

Ink, paper and two accent colors

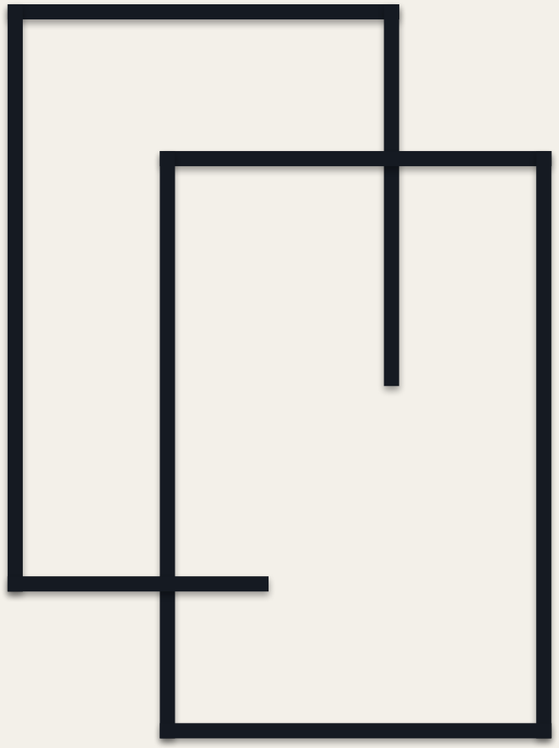

Use ink and paper for reading. Citron and cobalt identify selected actions and programs.

Two offset open frames

The original abstract mark suggests connected rooms. It contains no measured building plan.

Preserve the offset frames and their proportions.

Use one-color versions on artwork labels and larger signs.

Test legibility at actual production sizes.

Clear the name and mark before public launch.

Poster information and hierarchy

The concept identifies the event. Dates, venue and participants still need confirmation.

State Denver Art Fair & Exhibition.

Show the date and venue status clearly.

Keep access and free/paid information readable.

Credit art images and use them only with permission.

Three exhibition settings

Keep the same type, colors and information rules across the program.

GALLERIES

Readable labels, full artwork views and quiet buying appointments.

MEDIA WORKS

Artist-led light and sound with approved access and operating limits.

WORKSHOPS

Paid artists lead making and learning with clear participant terms.

Brand review and design scope

Test the direction with artists, buyers, residents and disabled visitors. Fund the next design scope.

- Check whether visitors understand the event and next action.
- Test type, color, images and signs at actual sizes.
- Record changes and approval before public production.
